

Good Guys Auto Glass

2011 Female RoadRunner-of-the-Year

This year, the 2011 Female RoadRunner of the Year award is presented to Jennifer Pizio-Perry!

As we heard earlier this evening, Jennifer had great results in 2011. And there is no questioning of her dedication to the sport and the RoadRunners Club. It is quite remarkable that Jennifer attended at least 16 runs in 2011. For those of you who may not know, Jennifer lives in the far western end of the Island, just outside Tignish. So, while many of us are getting our last few minutes of sleep before a big run ... Jennifer has already hit the road heading to the race in Summerside, or Charlottetown ... or even Montague.

Interest in Running and Helping Beginners:

She is proud of where she lives, and works hard to encourage runners from West Prince to exercise, train and compete. When she can, she'll car pool with others runners in the area to make it more economical to take part in our races. Her positive, friendly demeanor is always appreciated by those runners that she encourages and supports.

Assistance with Club Activities:

Jennifer has worked with new race directors in the West Prince area helping to increase the number of local runs at that end of the Island. This provides greater opportunity for local runners to compete, and to be bitten by the racing bug!

Training, racing and improvement:

Jennifer is a competitor. She races hard in each run and is always near the top for female finishers. In fact, she was in the top three female finishers in all but one of her 16 runs!! Her race times are always consistent, and Jennifer has won the Points Championship for the last two years in a row.

Always gives her Best:

Jennifer always gives her best. There is not too much that can keep Jennifer away from a run. Even when her van breaks down on the way to a run, ... Jennifer being ever resourceful ..., calls her nearest relative and borrows their car to get to the run.

The RoadRunners Club wish to recognize Jennifer Pizio-Perry as the 2011 Good Guys Auto Glass Female RoadRunner of the Year.

Congratulations Jennifer!

